

M.D. Manufacturing is revolutionizing the central vacuum industry with MD AirForce, a unique new design that makes it the:

- ◆ cleanest,
- ◆ quietest, and
- ◆ most home-friendly central vacuum available today.

health

[protecting your health]

Central vacuums are clinically proven allergy reducers.^{*} Germ laden air is exhausted outside your living area. But M.D. was the first to bring the concept of micro-fine filtration to the central vacuum, and MD AirForce introduces a new 2-ply micro-filter paper bag. The new bag, along with a cloth filter for strength, allows MD AirForce to truly capture fine dust down to .3 microns. This means MD AirForce will ensure you the cleanest air to protect the health of those you love.

technology

[providing the latest technology]

Since their inception, central vacuums have always required a low voltage wire to activate the power unit. This control wire provided potential errors and problems in the installation.

Introducing Power³

Power³ is a patented M.D. exclusive control unit that completely eliminates the need for any low voltage wire. It makes the system more reliable and allows for the addition of more features, including integration into a home automation system. This advance also allows for easier installation of the MD AirForce unit. There is no chance of a broken wire behind the walls.

quiet

[creating a quieter home]

M.D. Manufacturing has been the industry pioneer in the race to reduce the loud noise associated with central vacuums, and we've taken another leap forward with MD AirForce. How? For the first time ever, the vacuum motor has been placed inside the vacuum chamber; because "sound can't travel in a vacuum" we actually are "sucking up" sound made by the motor.

Now 26 patent claims make our unit uniquely quieter than any other product, and this new technology also rushes massive quantities of air past the motor, keeping it far cooler than any other central vacuum.

With 3-5 times the power of any portable, dusting and vacuuming are actually fun and especially cleaner, since all the dust is taken out of the living area.

Vacuuming has never been easier than with MD AirForce. Simply insert the lightweight hose into any conveniently located inlet and you are ready to vacuum. A switch on the end of the handle activates the MD AirForce and the electric power brush. An LED verifies the remote power unit is operating. A full range of attachments and features are available to help you do an extraordinary job of cleaning in less time and with less effort.

The Stealth accessory kit includes the top-of-the-line electric power brush.

[protecting home value]

When your central vacuum system is the MD AirForce, you can rest assured that you are helping to protect the value of your property. Carpeting is a major investment in your home, and MD AirForce creates the important cleaning combination of separating the carpet fibers, "forcing" air through them and using powerful suction to remove deep down dirt. The MD AirForce system appreciates the value of your property and serves as an excellent selling feature.

compare

M.D. Manufacturing has always encouraged comparison of its models with other central vacuum systems on the market. Compare the construction, operation and noise level of MD AirForce to other working models; M.D. is confident that you will see and hear the MD AirForce advantage.
